Dual Language Immersion Delivers for California's English Learners

Why This Matters for California Now

Note

What the Evidence Shows

Note

Recommendations for California

Conclusion

This commentary was adapted from a May 2026 working paper (Annenberg Institute, Brown University) by Lucrecia Santibañez, Clémence Darriet, Sarah Asson, Francesca López, Claudia Cervantes-Soon, and Erica Frankenberg. The research was funded by the Spencer Foundation. The authors thank the Los Angeles Unified School District's Multilingual Multicultural Education Department and the CORE–PACE Research Partnership for data access and partnership.

Dual language immersion delivers for California's English learners: New evidence from Los Angeles on attendance, reclassification, and the path to Global California 2030