

Lunch Panel: Increasing Equity in College Access and Success: Perspectives from California's Educational Institutions

Location: UC Berkeley School of Law, Booth Auditorium (175 Boalt Hall)

Date/time: November 22, 2019, 10:00am-4:00pm (lunch included)

College admissions policies are receiving renewed attention amid numerous developments in California and nationally. Fairness and equity in college access is more important than ever, and the time is right for a fresh look at the research on college admissions and the implications for California. PACE and UC Berkeley Graduate School of Education have brought together an esteemed group of policymakers, practitioners, and researchers to:

- Deepen awareness of evidence regarding admissions practices, and their equity implications
- Share innovations in admissions policy and practice in California and nationwide
- Explore possible directions for California postsecondary admissions policies

Speakers include leaders from the State Board of Education, each of California's institutions of higher education (UC, CSU, and community colleges), K-12 school districts, the College Board, and advocacy organizations, along with experts in college admissions and access from universities across California and nationwide.
